Continuing students

As of Semester 1, 2009, the Faculty of IT will activate a suite of new units that will replace the current ITNXXX unit codes. The new units will be of the form: INNXXX or INSXXX and in most instances will be direct descendants of previous ITNXXX units. To assist student with the new unit code structure, the faculty has published a unit incompatibility table, which can be found at: www.studentservices.qut.edu.au/pdfs/IT_pg_translation_table.pdf. Students are encouraged to use this table in making decisions relating to discontinued unit codes for their course progressions.

From Semester 1 2008 ITN319 Records Systems will not be offered. Students who have not yet completed this unit are invited to select an elective unit from within the faculty.

Students who have any questions about their enrolment are encouraged to contact the Course Coordinator for individual consultation on their program of study.
